Historical/Biographical Notes

Old Home Week : During a town meeting in 1903, the townspeople of Douglas voted to hold “Old Home Week” from July 28 to July 29.

The practice of “Old Home Week” began at the turn of the 20th Century in New England. The primary purpose of this celebration was for former residents of the town to return and to visit family, friends, and the place where they grew up.

In 1903, Douglas held her first “Old Home Week”. The event lasted two days and was attended by many Douglas natives, including United States Congressman John R. Thayer, Judge John F. Brown, and Charles H. Hutchins, president of Crompton & Knowles Loom Works. Also involved in the celebrations were Mrs. Mary Hunt (wife of Douglas native Leander B. Hunt), the Honorable M. Taft and General Augustus R.B. Sprague. Mrs. Hunt was a prominent activist and superintendent of the Women's Christian Temperance Union's Division of Scientific Temperance Instruction. The Taft and Sprague families both had deep historical ties to the Town of Douglas.

There are indications that an “Old Home Week” was also held in 1919, however there are no documents or artifacts in the archive to support this.

The 200th Anniversary and Welcome Home Celebration : In 1946, the Town of Douglas turned 200 years old. At the same time, the Second World War had come to an end and the town was welcoming home the 363 men and women who served. In celebration of both these events, the Town hosted a four-day celebration from August 24 to August 27.

The celebration included: a Grand Parade, Clambake for Veterans, Army Vets vs. Navy Vets Softball Game, Historical Exhibits, Victory Dances, Memorial Church Services, Blackstone Valley League Baseball Game, Band Concerts, Field Day and Doll Carriage Parade for children, Memorial Square Dedication, World War II Veterans Assembly and Testimonial, a Major League Baseball Exhibition Baseball Game and Fireworks.

One of the biggest draws of the celebration was the Major League Baseball Exhibition game, On the last day of the celebration, the Boston Red Sox and Ted Williams would be facing off against the Cleveland Indians at Schuster Field. Unfortunately, the weather did not cooperate and the game was rained out. Winfield S. Schuster managed to reschedule the game for September 25, 1946. The one change to the game is that it would be the Boston Red Sox versus the New York Yankees.

America's 200th Anniversary : In 1976, the United States of America celebrated her 200th Birthday, and like most towns and cities, Douglas held her own celebration. The Bicentennial Observance was held on October 2, 1976. The celebration primarily consisted of a parade through downtown Douglas, with floats from the various town organizations, the school band, local military groups, and local businesses. The judging and awards of the parade were followed by musical presentations from the marching bands and corps with selections from the Bicentennial Choir. The celebration concluded with dancing.

The 250th Anniversary : In 1996, Douglas celebrated her 250th Anniversary. The celebration began in June with a re-enactment of the famous 1946 baseball game between the Boston Red Sox and the New York Yankees, in which fifteen of the original ballplayers were in attendance. In October, there was a six-division parade in which 15,000 attended the festivities. Time and Town: Commemorating the 250th Anniversary of the Town of Douglas was published and gives an in-depth look at the history of Douglas, her people and the industries that once made up the town.

Scope and Content

This collection is comprised of items regarding the Old Home Week Celebration of 1903, the 200th Anniversary and Welcome Home Celebration in 1946, America's 200th Anniversary in 1976 and the 250th Anniversary of Douglas in 1996. Included in this collection are letters, programs, scrapbooks, newspaper clippings, ephemera and commemoration booklets. In the 200th Anniversary Celebration, there is the packet that was given to veteran Fred E.J. Crockett regarding the celebration. To go along with the scrapbooks, newspaper clippings and commemoration booklets, there are tables of contents, picture indexes and name indexes.

Related Collections

As the town celebrations incorporate so many different aspects of the town and the town's history, almost all collections could be considered related collections.
