Administrative History

Douglas is an open town meeting form of government, and is governed by ByLaws. ByLaws are:

written rules for conduct of a corporation, association, partnership or any organization. Bylaws generally provide for meetings, elections of a board of directors and officers, filling vacancies, notices, types and duties of officers, committees, assessments and other routine conduct. Bylaws are, in effect a contract among members, and must be formally adopted and/or amended.¹

These ByLaws are voted on at the town meetings.

The Town of Douglas General ByLaws govern the manner in which the town is run, including Town Meetings, Finance, Public Safety, Property, Animals Control, etc. These bylaws are based on Town Meeting Time: A Handbook of Parliamentary Law.² Copies of this work are currently in circulation at Simon Fairfield Public Library. As of 2016, Douglas is governed under General ByLaws that were adopted in 1974 and last updated in May, 2008.

The Town of Douglas Zoning ByLaws "...encourage the most appropriate uses of land throughout the town, and to increase the amenities of the town..." in accordance with Massachusetts State Laws. The current (2016) Zoning ByLaws were adopted on October 25, 2004, and have gone through numerous amendments. The ByLaws were last amended on June 21, 2010.

The Rules and Regulations Governing the Subdivision of Land is according to MGL Ch 41 §81M:

The subdivision control law has been enacted for the purpose of protecting the safety, convenience and welfare of the inhabitants of Douglas by regulating the laying out and construction of ways in subdivisions providing access to the several lots therein, but which have not become public ways, and ensuring sanitary conditions in subdivisions and in proper cases parks and open areas.

Currently (2016), the Subdivision Laws were adopted on September 17, 1974 and last revised on May 26, 2009.

The Wetland By-Law is currently (2016) Article 8 of the General Town ByLaws. It was originally adopted at a Special Town Meeting on January 5, 1983 and was most recently amended on May 20, 2002.
